Introduction

RPF has adopted this Code of Ethics (the “Code”) setting forth the standards of conduct expected of our personnel and addressing conflicts that arise from personal trading by our personnel. This Code is intended to promote compliance with our fiduciary standards to our clients.

Things You Need to Know to Use This Code:

1. Terms in boldface have special meanings as used in this Code. To understand the Code, you will need to read the definitions of these terms, which are found in the Glossary.
2. There are three Reporting Forms that you must complete under this Code. Additional information pertaining to these Reporting Forms are included below. You can also get copies of the Reporting Forms from the CCO. MODERN WEALTH LLC may establish alternate reporting mechanisms, which will be communicated in writing to all employees.
3. The CCO has the authority to grant written waivers of the provisions of this Code in appropriate instances. However:
 - a. MODERN WEALTH LLC expects that waivers will be granted only in rare instances, and
 - b. Some provisions of the Code that are mandated by law cannot be waived.
4. For purposes of this Code, all Access Persons, contract, temporary, or part-time personnel, shareholders, and other beneficial owners of MODERN WEALTH LLC are considered an Associated Person of MODERN WEALTH LLC.
5. The CCO will review the terms and provisions of this Code at least annually and make amendments as necessary. Any amendments will be distributed to all Associated Persons of MODERN WEALTH LLC and shall require each Associated Person to provide in writing their receipt, understanding, and acceptance of the change(s).
6. If you have any doubt or uncertainty about what this Code requires or permits, you should ask the CCO. Please do not guess at the answer.

General Principles of MODERN WEALTH LLC

The reputation of MODERN WEALTH LLC is important, and in order to protect this reputation, we must uphold principles of honesty, integrity, and professionalism. Additionally, because MODERN WEALTH LLC is a fiduciary for our Advisory Clients, we have the following general principles:

1. The duty at all times to place the interests of clients first. All Associated Persons must scrupulously avoid serving their own personal interest ahead of the interests of the client. In addition, Associated Persons must work diligently to ensure that no client is preferred over any other client;
2. Personal transactions in securities by Associated Persons must be accomplished so as to avoid even the appearance of a conflict of interest on the part of such personnel with the interest of the clients.
3. Associated Persons must avoid actions or activities that allow (or appear to allow) a person to profit or benefit from his or her position with MODERN WEALTH LLC at the expense of clients, or that otherwise bring into question the person's independence or judgment.
4. All Associated Persons are naturally prohibited from engaging in any practice that defrauds or misleads any client, or engaging in any manipulative or deceitful practice with respect to clients or securities.

The general principles discussed in this section govern all conduct, whether the conduct is covered by more specific standards and procedures set for below.

MODERN WEALTH LLC expects all employees to comply with the spirit of the Code, as well as the specific rules contained in the Code. MODERN WEALTH LLC treats violations of this Code (including violations of the spirit of the Code) very seriously. If you violate either the letter or the spirit of this Code, MODERN

WEALTH LLC may take disciplinary measures against you, including, without limitation, imposing penalties or fines, reducing your compensation, demoting you, requiring unwinding of the trade, requiring disgorgement of trading gains, suspending or terminating your employment, or any combination of the foregoing.

Guidelines for Professional Standards

All Associated Persons must at all times reflect the professional standards expected of those engaged in the investment advisory business and shall act within the spirit and the letter of the federal, state, and local laws and regulations pertaining to the investment advisers and the general conduct of business. These standards require all personnel to be judicious, accurate, objective and reasonable in dealing with both clients and other parties so that their personal integrity is unquestionable.

1. It is every Associated Person's obligation to report suspected or actual violations of laws, government rules and regulations, the Code or other suspected wrongdoings affecting MODERN WEALTH LLC to the CCO or other appropriate person of MODERN WEALTH LLC immediately. Such reports will be held in confidence to the extent possible under the circumstances and MODERN WEALTH LLC will not permit any form of intimidation or retaliation against any Associated Person who made a good-faith report of actual or suspected violations(s).
2. No Associated Person may serve on the board of directors of any publicly traded company without prior written permission by the CCO, or other appropriate personnel.
3. Associated Persons must conduct all personal securities transactions in full compliance with this Code. Doubtful situations always should be resolved in favor of the Advisory Clients and in cooperation with the CCO. Technical compliance with the Code's provisions shall not automatically insulate from scrutiny any securities transactions or actions that could indicate a violation of MODERN WEALTH LLC's fiduciary duties.
4. Access Persons are prohibited from accepting compensation for services from outside sources without the specific prior written permission of the CCO or other appropriate personnel.
5. When any Associated Person faces a conflict or potential conflict between their personal interest and the interests of clients, they are required to immediately report the conflict to the CCO for instruction regarding how to proceed.

The recommendations and actions of MODERN WEALTH LLC are confidential and private matters. Accordingly, MODERN WEALTH LLC prohibits the transmission, distribution or communication of any information regarding securities transactions in client accounts or other Non-Public Information, except to broker/dealers or other bona fide service providers in the ordinary course of business. In addition, no information obtained during the course of employment regarding particular securities (including internal reports and recommendations) may NOT be transmitted, distributed, or communicated to anyone who is not affiliated with MODERN WEALTH LLC, without the prior written approval of the CCO.

Personal Trading Policies

The following policies and procedures apply to all accounts owned or controlled by an Access Person, those accounts owned or controlled by members of the Access Person's Family/Household, those account in which an Access Person exercises investment discretion (excluding the Advisory Client accounts of MODERN WEALTH LLC), and any account in which the Access Person has any beneficial interest, such as a trust account, certain investment pools in which you might participate, and certain accounts that others may be managing for you. These accounts are collectively referred to as "Covered Accounts." Any account in question should be addressed with the CCO immediately to determine if it is a covered account.

Reporting Requirements

Access Persons

Exemptions from Reporting

Non-Reportable Securities as defined in Rule 204(A)-1 are exempt from reporting requirements.

529 College Savings Plans, which MODERN WEALTH LLC does not manage, distribute, market or underwrite the Plan or the investments and strategies underlying the Plan, are not considered “Covered Accounts” and do not need to be reported by the employee.

Managed Accounts that the employee does not have direct or indirect influence or control over are exempted from the transaction reporting requirement. To qualify for this exemption, a Managed Account Letter (see Exhibit A) must be turned into Compliance along with any necessary advisory agreements and the Managed Account Certification form (see Exhibit B)

Principal Transactions

Neither MODERN WEALTH LLC nor an employee may engage in principal transactions between a proprietary account and a client account.

Private Placements

No Employee may acquire, directly or indirectly, Beneficial Ownership of any security in a private placement without the prior approval of the CCO.

Initial Public Offerings

No employee may acquire, directly or indirectly, Beneficial Ownership of any security in an initial public offering without the prior approval of the CCO.

Manipulative Practices

Section 9(a)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”) makes it unlawful for any person, acting alone or with others, to effect a series of transactions in any security registered on a national securities exchange creating actual or apparent active trading in such security or raising or depressing the price of the security, for the purpose of inducing the purchase or sale of such security by others. Rule 10b-5 under the Exchange Act has been interpreted to proscribe the same type of trading practices in OTC securities.

The thrust of these prohibitions against manipulative trading practices is that no employee should, alone or with others, for either a client account or a proprietary account:

- I. Engage in trading or apparent trading activity for the purpose of inducing purchases or sales by others; or
- II. Engage in trading or apparent trading activity for the purpose of causing the price of a security to move up or down, and then take advantage of such price movement by buying or selling at such “artificial” price level.

Of course, buy or sell programs may cause stock prices to rise or fall, and price changes resulting from supply and demand factors are not prohibited. Rather, prohibited activity is where there is a purpose to affect the price of a security artificially through trading or apparent trading, not where such change is an incidental result of a change in supply, demand, or in the intrinsic value of a security.

Client Priority

Clients, including mutual funds in which MODERN WEALTH LLC serves as Investment Adviser, must always receive the best price, in relation to employees, on same day adviser directed transactions. Employees of MODERN WEALTH LLC must first give priority on all purchases and sales of securities to MODERN WEALTH LLC's clients, prior to the execution of transactions for their proprietary accounts, and personal trading must be conducted so as not to conflict with the interests of a client. While the scope of such actions cannot be exactly defined, they would always include each of the following prohibited situations:

- a) Contemporaneously purchasing the same securities as a client without making an equitable allocation of the securities to the client first, on the basis of such considerations as available capital and current positions, and then to the account of the employee;
- b) Knowingly purchasing or selling securities, directly or indirectly, in such a way as to personally injure a client's transactions;
- c) Using knowledge of securities transactions by a client to profit personally, directly or indirectly, by the market effect of such transactions; and
- d) Giving to any person information not generally available to the public about contemplated, proposed or current purchases or sales of securities by or for a client account, except to the extent necessary to effectuate such transactions.

Exempted from these guidelines are situations where an Access Person has an account managed by a professional investment advisor where the: Access Person has no discretion over the trades made in that account; trades are allocated without the Access Person's knowledge; and the Access Person has submitted to the CCO a letter from the investment advisor acknowledging the above, upon request of the CCO.

Case-by-Case Exemptions

Because no written policy can provide for every possible contingency, the CCO may consider granting additional exemptions from the Prohibitions on Trading on a case-by-case basis. Any request for such consideration must be submitted by the covered person in writing to the CCO. Exceptions will only be granted in those cases in which the CCO determines that granting the request will create no actual, potential or apparent conflict of interest. All exceptions that are granted will be so granted only in writing.

Review of Personal Securities Transactions

Confirmations, statements, and other information regarding personal securities transactions and personal account holdings will be reviewed at least quarterly to monitor compliance with this policy. Such reviews will be conducted by the CCO or a designee that shall report the findings of the review to the CCO with documentation to substantiate the review maintained in MODERN WEALTH LLC's compliance files. MODERN WEALTH LLC reserves the right to require any employee to reverse, cancel or freeze, at the employee's expense, any transaction or position in a specific security if MODERN WEALTH LLC believes the transaction or position violates its policies or appears improper. MODERN WEALTH LLC will keep all such information confidential except as required to enforce this policy, to participate in any investigation concerning violations of applicable law or as it otherwise believes to be necessary under the circumstances.

Pre-Clearance for Personal Securities Transactions

Pre-clearance shall not be required for personal securities transactions other than initial public offerings, purchases or sales in a mutual fund in which MODERN WEALTH LLC acts as Advisor or Sub advisor, and/or private placements.

Insider Trading

The purpose of the Insider Trading Policy is to educate our Associated Persons regarding Insider Trading and to detect and prevent Insider Trading by any person associated with MODERN WEALTH LLC. The term “Insider Trading” is not specifically defined in the securities laws, but generally refers to the use of material, Non-Public Information to trade in securities or the communication of material, Non-Public Information to others.

Prohibited Activities

All Associated Persons of MODERN WEALTH LLC, including contract, temporary, or part-time personnel, or any other person associated with MODERN WEALTH LLC are prohibited from the following activities:

- a) trading or recommending trading in securities for any account (personal or client) while in possession of material, Non-Public Information about the issuer of the securities; or
- b) communicating material, Non-Public Information about the issuer of any securities to any other person.

The activities described above are not only violations of these Insider Trading Policies, but also may be violations of applicable law.

Reporting of Material, Non-Public Information

Any Associated Person who possesses or believes that she or he may possess material, Non-Public Information about any issuer of securities must report the matter immediately to the CCO. The CCO will review the matter and provide further instructions regarding appropriate handling of the information to the reporting individual.

Penalties for Insider Trading

The legal consequences for trading on or communicating material, Non-Public Information are severe, both for individuals involved in such unlawful conduct and their employers. A person can be subject to some or all of the penalties below even if he/she does not personally benefit from the violation. Penalties may include:

- a. civil injunctions
- b. jail sentences
- c. revocation of applicable securities-related registrations and licenses
- d. fines for the person who committed the violation of up to three times the profit gained or loss avoided, whether or not the person actually benefited; and
- e. fines for the employee or other controlling person.
- f. In addition, MODERN WEALTH LLC’s management will impose serious sanctions on any person who violates the Insider Trading Policies. These sanctions may include suspension or dismissal of the persons involved.

SANCTIONS

All disciplinary responses to violations of the Code shall be administered by the CCO, subject to approval by the President of MODERN WEALTH LLC. Determinations regarding appropriate disciplinary responses will be administered on a case-by-case basis.

CERTIFICATION

All Associated Persons are required to annually certify his or her understanding and continuing acceptance of, as well as agreement to abide by, the guidelines and policies set forth herein. Additionally, any change or
